MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In the first half of 2012, the national macro-economy, in general, was in stable operations in spite of a slowdown and continued to develop towards the expected direction pursuant to the macro-control mechanism. The electric power consumption across the country amounted to 2.38 trillion KWh for the first half of 2012, representing an increase of 5.5% compared with the corresponding period in 2011. The increase included a 12.1% consumption growth in tertiary industry and a 12.7% consumption growth for urban and rural residents, representing an increase of 10.4% and 15.2%, respectively, compared with the corresponding period in 2011, giving the power consumption across the country a significant thrust.

As a city with a service-oriented economy focusing on the tertiary industry, in order to implement the strategic concept of “Culture-enriched Beijing, Technology-empowered Beijing and Environment-friendly Beijing” and meet the requirements of becoming a “World City”, in the first half of 2012, Beijing strived to increase its electricity and heat supplies against the backdrop of a rapid increase in electric power consumptions and further optimized its electric power structure. Moreover, through measures such as monitoring PM2.5 which was centred on the “Beijing Municipal Clean Air Action Plan”, Beijing actively advanced the coal-free program within the 5th Ring Road and assiduously bolstered the development of clean energies.

In the first half of the year, adhering to our annual working targets, the Group seized various advantageous opportunities brought by industry policies and supports from the Beijing Municipal Government and strengthened our infrastructure management. The constructions of our top-notch projects were solid and effective while the constructions of the four major thermal power centres as well as the regional energy projects in key functional areas were progressing at a high speed. There was an apparent acceleration of the development of the Company.

I. Business Review for the First Half of the Year

1. Strengthen infrastructure management and effectively advance project construction

In the first half of 2012, while ensuring the infrastructure construction progress, the Group further improved construction standards, optimized technical solutions, and systemically strengthened the management of projects under construction, so as to forge top-notch projects. The main body in Phase II of the southwest thermal power centre – Jingqiao Power Plant was substantially completed. The equipment procurement bidding phase foridntd stng phat ngt0

3. Continue to strengthen project development

In the first half of 2012, the Group continued to strengthen its efforts on project development. In addition to the existing pipeline projects, we added new pipeline projects such as Changping technology business district (“TBD”) energy project and Tongzhou Taihu energy project. The Group obtained approvals from the relevant provincial development and reform commissions (the “DRC”) for two additional projects with a total capacity of 1,347 MW.

4. Strengthen management with steady growth of profitability

In the first half of 2012, the Group continued to explore ways to optimize our operations, deepen professional and refined management, take vigorous measures to maintain economic operation and reliability of our equipment, and tighten cost control, thus realizing a profit and total comprehensive income for the period attributable to equity owners of the Company of RMB423.52 million, representing a slight increase over the corresponding period of last year.

5. Step up efforts on CDM project development with increasing number of CDM projects

During the Reporting Period, the Group’s CDM projects went smoothly with an increasing number of projects being registered. As of June 30, 2012, the Group had a total of 25 CDM projects registered with the CDM Executive Board, and the accumulated installed capacity reached 1,422 MW, among which, in the first half of 2012, the Group registered five new CDM wind power projects with an aggregate installed capacity of 228 MW.

6. Optimize financial structure and continue to seek diversified financing channels

To optimize our financial structure, the Group promotes effective use of financial resources and continues to seek diversified financing channels. In the first half of 2012, the Group obtained the approval from China Securities Regulatory Commission and successfully completed the issuance of corporate bonds on July 9, 2012 amounting to RMB3.6 billion with fixed coupon rates, among which, RMB2.4 billion were 3-year corporate bonds with a coupon rate at 4.35% and RMB1.2 billion were 5-year corporate bonds with a coupon rate at 4.6%. With the issuance of corporate bonds, the Group was able to lock in capital cost and further expand financing channels at lower finance costs. Meanwhile, the Group introduced capitals from sources other than banks via different methods such as the debt scheme, which not only satisfied the business capital requirements but also achieved a more balanced debt structure on an on-going basis, with an aim of reducing finance costs.
